The House of Calvary

ANNIE BLOUNT STORRS

In 1899, Annie Blount Storrs joined with several friends to open the House of Calvary on Perry Street in Greenwich Village. Their mission was to give care and dignity to the body and soul of poor women afflicted with cancer and similar diseases.

Today, Calvary carries on Annie's vision, serving as a beacon of peace, calm, freedom from pain, and preservation of respect and dignity. Members of the Storrs Society enable Calvary to continue to provide CalvaryCare®, including Bereavement Care, Family Care and Pastoral Care for patients and families.
